Holmes, Organist, At a subsequent conclive it was decided, in order that their families and friends should enjoy the exercises and witness as much of Templarism as could consistently, with loyalty to the frater's obligation, be made unbile that they would have the officers publicly in-ducted into their respective offices, with a canquet to succeed the ceremonies.

In order to avoid a crowd it was deemed advisable to issue invitations, which should serve the purpose of a card of admission. Last night being the nuniversary of the com-mandery's natal day, was the occasion set upon for the observance of the exercises. In Children's Periodicals, too, America leads

At first glance one would say, literature, art, and cheapness can no further go—but in this country intelligence is so widespread, and ar-tistic culture is so extended, that there is scarcely any end to the demand for such magazines as SCRIBNER's for grown-ups and ST, NICHOLAS for children, and, as the sale of these publicaions increases, their conductors will continue

At a reduction of 20 per cent., to reduce stock.
